THE NORMAL INSTITUTE

Number of Teachers Present. 100 barrels Double-Refined Cook-

The Normal Institute at Bartlett met yesterday morning and organized, with a large number of teachers present and more expected to-day. The meeting is hell at the courthouse, where the accommodations are excellent. The first ten minutes after being called to order were spent in devotional exercises, the Rev. Mr. Coop, the paster of the Methodist Episcopal Church South at this place, being present and reading scripture, a song and engaging in prayer. After that a brief but eloquent and well-pointed address was made by John McBrooks, and this was well responded to by Dr. W. L. Henderson, the county superintendent, who then introthe county superintendent, who then intro-duced Frank M. Smith, under whose direc-tion the institute is to be held and direc-tive to business, after some remarks rela-tive to the death of Dr. Doak, the late State

The cotton market yesterday opened and closed quiet at quotations; middling, 11½c. In New York spot middling was 12½c, and quiet; futures closed barely steady; June, 12.07@12.08. In New Orleans spots were firm at 12c; futures closed steady at 11.95@ 11.97 for June. In Liverpool middling uplands were firm at 6½d, and Orleans 6 13-16d; futures closed steady at 6 40-64d for June.

Hive to the death of Dr. Doak, the late State superintendent—in which he spoke of him as a true and faithful educator and a good and true man cut off in the midst of his work—moved that a committee of three be appointed by Superintendent Henderson to draft resolutions of respect and condolence to be presented to this institute, and after being adopted to be forwarded to Dr. Doak's family. The committee was appointed, and the resolutions will be presented to morrow.

Mr. Smith then proceeded to the business in hand, which was to present a programme Index were firm at 6 and Orleans 6 13-16d; futures closed steady at 6 40-64d for June-July, and 6 47-64d for August-September.

In the resolutions will be presented to-morrow. Mr. Smith then proceeded to the business in hand, which was to present a programme and assign the work to the several instructors. The programme contemplates a daily work (class instruction) in all the branches in the common school curriculum, and each member will have active practical duties to perform. Each member is provided with a blank book, in which is to be noted down the work as it progresses. These blank books are looked over by the instructors at the end of each day, and the work graded; then the of each day, and the work graded; then the daily work is graded at the end of the ses-ing reduced accordingly; but the grading will not commence until Wednesday, so as

The crowd in attendance was not disappointed. It was a model game in every respect, and was char-acterized by close and expert fielding. Up to the sixth inning, so alert were the boys, that not a run had been made.

Yesterday's Game. In the presence of about 400 people the Memphis Reds and the Lone Stars met Memphis Reds and the Lone Stars met again yesterday afternoon, and the strangers were again flaxed. They put up a very pretty game, but certainly played to very bad luck in Memphis. Byrd yesterday made three solid base hits out of the six made by the Reds. Reising and O'Neil, the pitcher and catcher of the Memphis boys, are pronounced daisies, and they work together like clockwork. The following is a description of the game by the APPEAL'S base-ball commissioner: The Reds started the game. Byrd retired

STIR IN COURT.

This school is one of the good works being carried on by Grace (Episcopal) church. It is for poor children, whether orphans or not. It will be an interesting entertainment, and Approached.

George M. Baker's drama, The Last Long was given at Estival Park last night by the Jeans Senators before a large audience, and proved very enjoyable. The young neeple acquitted themselves handsomely. After the play the entertainment drifted into a Case Involving a Big Plantation-The Motive for the Very Serious Charges Made.

Quite a stir was occasioned in the Chancery Court yesterday by a totally unexpected event. About two weeks ago a large suit, totho They Are, Where They Live, and wit: Mrs. Pickett at Ferguson & Hampson, and Hanauer, was begun before Special-Chancellor Ellett. It involved a large plantation some thirteen miles below Osceola, and, of course, there was a large array of eminent counsel, and the case has been closely fought. It was begun before a jury, s Them-The Wonderful Recor A partial list of the prizes paid by the who were sworn to try it impartially, and that is where the rub comes in. The unex-A partial fist of the prizes paid by the Louisiana State Lottery Company during the year ending May, 1882, together with the names and addresses given to the company by the holders, omitting those who have repected event that

CREATED THE STIR is court was a motion by Judge Walker that the jury in the case be discharged, that the law and facts be submitted to Judge Ellett, and that he decide on the merits of the case. Receipts for the amounts are on file at the offices of the company. As a reason for this, Judge Walker said that there was some talk about some of the jury-men having been improperly approached, and the lawyers, having all consulted, were TO LEAVE THE CASE with the judge. The evidence had all been heard and the speeches were being made when Judge Walker made his request. Judge Ellett did not care to shoulder the whole case, but as the parties desired him to do so he consented. The fact soon became known that the jury had been discharged before their duties were over, and rumors prevailed that wholesale bribery was going on. THE THING LEAKED OUT irst through Mr. William B. McGuire, one of the jurors. According to his statement he had been approached, not by either the plaintiff or the defendant, but by a third party, who took him aside to talk of church matters and then very slyly insinuated a lo of questions pertaining to the suit. One of the arguments brought to bear on Mr. Mo Guire was the statement that Mr. Hanauer was a good friend of his. There was no direct effort to bribe. It occurred to Mr. McGuire that possibly others had been SIMILABLY APPROACHED, o he resolved to make known what happened and did so. The event proved that he was not mistaken. Three or four members of the jury had had similar powers of persuasion used on them. Mr. McGuire requested that an investigation might be had, and it is quite probable that one will be held soon be the regular chancellor.

OUTTING AFFRAY. George Davison Slashed Across the

Face by Alonzo Sheldon. Alonzo Sheldon, alias "Tode Hopper," cut and seriously wounded George Davison last evening about 5 o'clock aboard the tug Tilda, at the mouth of Wolf river, under the following circumstances: Sheldon was employed on the Tilea as deckhand up to four days ago, when he was discharged. He went aboard the boat last evening, being drunk, and accusing Davison, who is engineer, of being the cause of his discharg commenced to abuse him. After some words Sheldon struck Davison with his fist and started to pick up a stool, when the en-gineer struck Sheldon with a monkey-wrench, knocking him down, whereupon Shel-don left the boat, but returned in a few minutes with a butcher-knife and cut Davi-son across the face. Davison is at the hospital and Sheldon in the station

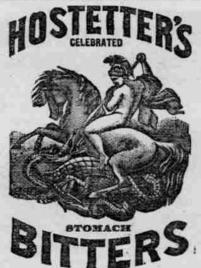

BREACH OF TRUST.

A young man named W. P. Lynch was gathered in by the police yesterday and registered on the police docket with the motto "breach of trust" opposite his name. The charge against Lynch is as follows: He was given the agency hereof the Fritz Bros., cigar dealers and manufacturers, of Cincinnati. nati. When he received the appointment he borrowed a suit of clothes, a watch and several valuable articles from a machinist several valuable articles from a machinist named Weau, in order to present a respectable front. Instead of going honestly to work, he is said to have sold the samples sent him by the Fritz Bros. Not satisfied with this he pawned Mr. Wean's watch and valuables, and then sold the pawn ticket. When the APPEAL reporter saw him he was very anxious that his name should be kept out of the paper, and wanted to know what the reporter had concerning his case. The scribe offered to publish any statement he chose to make, but Lynch said, "I hardly know how to begin;" and as he never did begin, the reporter con-
